

Observations: Review of the facies waveforms shown on the seismic as a ribbon shifted above the interval analysed [top blue; base green] with the waveform display and the seismic facies map shows how facies map is responding to changes in trace shape. This approach should be followed to help identify the nature of each seismic facies feature (ie structural, stratigraphic or artifact).

