

Ocean Patriot - Stops Card of the Week

25 September 05

Ben Bradley won the stop card of the week for observing that the split pin in the shackle on a rig floor tugger was incorrectly fitted and had the potential of catching persons glove or cutting someone when the tugger was used. The split pin was removed and replaced with a new one which was fitted correctly. Good observation as the incorrectly fitted split pin could have caused a serious cut when the tugger was used to pick up a load. Congratulations to Ben and thanks for him and the rest of the drill team for working safely so that:

“Nobody gets Hurt and there is no risk to the # Environment”

Sonny Linder won the stop card of the week for observing that the fuel transfer hose appeared to be worn thus having potential to fail while transferring fuel between the supply boat and the rig which could cause an environmental spill. The hose was brought onto the deck of the rig and inspected where the damage was found to be superficial. The hose was returned to service but will be inspected periodically to insure that it is in a safe condition to use. Good observation as a fuel spill could cause serious environmental damage. Congratulations to Sonny and thanks for him and the rest of the team for working safely, so that:

“Nobody gets Hurt and there is no risk to the Environment”